DEAR HR Name
I hope you're doing well.

My name is Sobhit Kumar, and I am currently pursuing my B.Tech in Computer Science at Rungta International Skills University. I'm applying for the Web Development Internship role at your organization.

I have a strong foundational understanding of C language, HTML, CSS, and JavaScript, and I'm actively building projects to expand my development skills. I recently created a Simple Interest calculator in C, and I'm continuously learning to improve both my logic-building and web development capabilities. I am eager to gain real-world experience, contribute to ongoing projects, and grow under the guidance of industry professionals.

I have attached my resume for your review. I would appreciate the opportunity to discuss how I can contribute to your team.

Thank you for your time and consideration.
Looking forward to your response.
